Financial Empowerment

Michigan Communities for Financial Empowerment (MCFE) is a network for local leaders working to integrate financial empowerment with core public and nonprofit services. MCFE members help Michigan residents reach financial stability through financial education and counseling, access to affordable financial products and services, opportunities to save and build wealth and consumer protections.

Show Me the Money Day

CEDAM supported these community-led events resulting in more than 2,450 participants, 145 free financial empowerment workshops and 504 vendors. Seventy-two percent of attendees reported feeling more hopeful about their financial situation after attending Show Me the Money Day.

Advocacy & Engagement

CEDAM hosted three legislative luncheons around the state to provide opportunities for members to engage with local legislators.

Michigan Coalition for Responsible Lending

CEDAM continued to grow the Michigan Coalition for Responsible Lending (MCRL) with local and statewide organizations. Coalition members helped draft a bill that was introduced which would cap interest and fees on payday loans at 36% statewide.

Rural Council

The Michigan Rural Council (MRC) is a bridge between leaders and communities that works to revitalize and enhance rural Michigan communities. The MRC connects and educates community leaders, provides expertise and advocates for policy and projects to impact rural Michigan.

Michigan Children’s Savings Account Network

CEDAM oversees the Michigan Children’s Savings Account Network which provides statewide policy advocacy for asset building, as well as technical assistance and collective problem solving for new and emerging CSAs. There are six CSA initiatives in Michigan, two of which were started in 2018 in Buchanan and Newaygo County.

Housing Policy Report

In October, CEDAM hired a housing policy associate to organize housing stakeholders and review current housing policy in Michigan. The work started in 2018 will result in an official report and policy recommendations to help increase the availability and access to safe and affordable housing for low- and moderate-income individuals and families.

Tax Preparation

The Michigan Economic Impact Coalition (MEIC) unites individuals, organizations and local initiatives committed to supporting tax credit and asset building opportunities for Michigan families through improved access to free, quality income tax preparation assistance.

Michigan students enrolled in a CSA program as of the end of 2018

CEDAM provided nine grants to support small-scale projects in rural communities that will serve as a catalyst for future investment. Funding was awarded to:

- City of Marlette
- Grand Haven Main Street
- Lakeshore Food Club
- Community Foundation for Oceana County (2)
- Village of DeTour
- Village of Homer
- Open Arms Child Advocacy Center
- Village of Roscommon

They helped more than 14,775 households claim more than $1.8 million in home heating assistance.
AmeriCorps

CEDAM managed two AmeriCorps programs in 2018, the Rural Opportunity VISTA program and the Michigan Financial Opportunity Corps (MFOC). The VISTA program places members in rural communities to fight poverty by creating new or expanding existing programs at the organization. MFOC members support their community’s financial well-being through direct-service and Show Me the Money Day events.

- MFOC members at 18 host sites
- VISTA members at 9 host sites

In 2018 the average MFOC member facilitated financial education classes to 46 individuals, assisted 20 at-risk homeowners with foreclosure prevention, recruited ten volunteers for their host site, and hosted one Show Me the Money Day resource fair.

The average VISTA member raised $12,879 in funds for their host site and recruited 51 volunteers who gave 653 hours of service.

Resources & Training

CEDAM produces and hosts numerous resources and trainings that complement specific programs and appeal to the industry at large. In addition to the items below, CEDAM is active in promoting our members on social media and maintaining our resource library.

- 41 blog posts featuring member initiatives, CEDAM events, policy updates, best practices and leaders in the community economic development industry.
- 9 webinars & 480 participants featuring a range of topics designed to engage members from a distance and bring industry leaders to the table to discuss topics and policy related to the community economic development industry.
- 14 Real Estate Development Boot Camp graduates equipped with the knowledge and fundamentals needed to develop affordable housing in Michigan.
- 143 Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) Workshop participants learned how to submit a great LIHTC application and working with the new Qualified Allocation Plan (QAP).

Poverty Simulations

CEDAM hosts unique and interactive experiences of what it’s like to live in poverty. In the poverty simulation, participants go to work, take care of their family, grocery shop and look for resources to keep their family afloat for the month. Poverty simulations help participants look at poverty from different angles, understand the realities of poverty and discuss potential change in their local communities or workplace.

- 7 simulations with members

Community Development Fellowship

In 2018, CEDAM received funding from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) to develop and manage a new fellowship for Project Rising Tide (PRT). PRT, an initiative of Michigan’s Talent & Economic Development Department (TED), provides additional capacity and technical assistance to one community in each of Michigan’s 10 prosperity regions, with the goal of helping the communities develop a strong foundation for community, economic and talent development. Fellows work with a local steering committee, state partners and technical assistance consultants to support communities in pursuing Redevelopment Ready Communities certification and implement projects to catalyze community economic development.

- 10 Community Development Fellows placed in 11 Rising Tide Communities across Michigan

The communities are: Adrian | Albion | Beaverton/Gladwin | Eaton Rapids | Hamtramck | Ionia | Manistee | Marlette | Ontonagon | West Branch
About twenty years ago, Marc Craig, president of CEDAM member Community Housing Network (CHN), went through CEDAM's annual Real Estate Development Boot Camp training. This training equips people and organizations with the tools and knowledge needed to develop affordable housing in Michigan.

Today, Community Housing Network is a leading affordable housing developer in Michigan. They have a large portfolio of homes and rental residential communities serving our state's most vulnerable people. They provide homes for people facing homelessness, with disabilities, with low income and others in Southeast Michigan.

CHN is not only a powerhouse developer, but an organization helping to train the next generation of affordable housing developers in Michigan. Kirsten Elliott, VP of Development at CHN, CEDAM board member and Boot Camp graduate, has been CEDAM's lead trainer at Real Estate Development Boot Camp for the past two years. Kirsten brings passion, humor and experience to training and participants she trained have gone on to bring affordable housing developments to fruition.

Village of Lawrence Community Assessment Made Possible by Consumers Energy Grant

In December 2018, CEDAM conducted a Community Assessment in the Village of Lawrence. The assessment was made possible through a grant from Consumers Energy. We met with community leaders and stakeholders to look at both the challenges and the assets of the community. As a result of the assessment, the Village received a report with resources and recommendations to address challenges and capitalize on their strengths.

The 2018 Impact

An AmeriCorps Success Story

I facilitated a budgeting and credit workshop using the Money Smart curriculum to a group of women in their early twenties. There aren’t many resources for young adults in the area, so it was great to see a turn out in this community. Being a few years older than the women in my class, I was familiar with the intimidating transition into adulthood—particularly when it came to finances. Most of the women felt overwhelmed by student loans or were struggling to get approval for their first credit card or car loan. Having just faced these obstacles myself, I felt a particular connection to this group. The class ran over the time I had expected because there was lot of participation and engagement. By the end, I could sense a real change of attitude within the group. Instead of avoiding financial responsibilities, all women appeared to have a new outlook, were downloading the Mint application onto their phone or trying to pull their credit report for the first time. Not only was it amazing to see a change in this group, but they suggested to their friends to come to a class. I will be teaching a group of their peers in the next coming weeks! It’s pretty incredible what AmeriCorps has provided my hometown; the resources they offer the community are essential, especially in such a rural area where they aren’t usually accessible.

Single mom relies on free tax preparation

The MEIC Scan and Go Tax Service links people needing help preparing and filing their taxes with VITA sites across the state. Holly M. has been using the service at the Vernon Public Library since 2016. She works for a local school district helping blind students with their reading assignments but when the school year is over, so too is a regular paycheck. Holly, a single mom, relies on the savings in tax preparation fees and her refund to pay the bills over the summer until the next school year starts.

Without the program, I wouldn’t know about all the credits and things for which I am eligible and need to cover my bills over the summer. Last summer, knowing that all my summer bills were covered, I was able to pay for my son and I to go on his school trip to Chicago. It was the first time, in a long time, we were able to go someplace, and it felt so good to be able to share that with him!

Letter from Our Board Chair

Dear Members, Supporters and Friends,

The past year represents another positive year of progress through our work. As a collective, we made a significant impact on MSHDA’s Qualified Action Plan (QAP), utilizing a committee of members to offer feedback and suggestions. Our training offerings were well received by the field and helped to educate those at all levels of community economic development.

Our new relationship with the Ford Foundation gave us a renewed focus on housing and quite a bit to look forward to in the coming year. We have a new diversity and inclusion initiative that will lead to increased opportunities for those who are currently underrepresented in community economic development, knowing that we can't move the sector forward without ensuring that equity is at the forefront.

CEDAM is fortunate to have such engaged board members and staff. I am grateful for their commitment and contributions to the organization and sector. I look forward to all that the future holds and am thankful for the opportunity to lead this vital work.

Best,

Glenn Wilson
CEDAM Board President
